An entrance fee of 0 yen is displayed for entrance fee-exempted students who have passed a screening exam (for a double degree program), students advancing within a graduate school, and government-financed international students. These students do not need to complete the entrance fee payment procedure.

Now continue on to the procedure for printing the documents to submit.

Students seeking entrance fee exemption or deferral

Select 'Entrance fee exemption' or 'Entrance fee deferral' from 'Payment procedures', and click 'Apply' to continue the procedure.

*Applying for both entrance fee exemption and deferral at the same time is impossible.

Note that no changes can be made after paying the entrance fee.

See [Section 7] ('Financial assistance') on p. 20 for an overview of the entrance fee exemption program and the conditions for applying.

You'll need to submit certified income statements and other required documents after entering.

1 Tuition (not collected as part of entrance procedures)

After entering at Chiba University, you'll be required to pay the annual tuition twice per year (for the first and second semesters). Tuition is paid by direct debit from your bank account. You'll need to register the account to be used for the direct debit on the website. You'll be notified later about how to register your account.

[Applying for tuition exemption/deferral or payment in monthly installments]

Applications for tuition exemption/deferral or payment in monthly installments for the tuition payable immediately after entrance (tuition for one semester) can be made separately after entrance. See [Section 7] ('Financial assistance') on p. 21 for more information.

Applications for tuition fee exemption/deferral and payment in monthly installments can be made every semester. Bear in mind that you'll need to apply separately for each semester if you want to apply for tuition exemption/deferral or payment in monthly installments for a subsequent spring or fall semester.

2 Gakkensai insurance premium

The University requires all students to be covered by an insurance policy provided by Japan Educational Exchanges and Services (JEES). The policy is known as Gakkensai in Japanese—Personal Accident Insurance for Students Pursuing Education and Research (with special provisions for commuting accidents and infectious disease). This accident insurance policy provides compensation in the event of physical injury from a sudden and unexpected external accident. Gakkensai coverage is a common requirement of universities in Japan.

◆ Pay the premium online using the e-apply service.

<https://e-apply.jp/ds/chiba-u-oln/public/login>

*The system will be available from March.

If the announcement of successful applicants is in March, it will be available one week after the date of the announcement of successful applicants.

- (1) You'll need your exam number and date of birth to log in. The premium to pay is displayed after you log in.
- (2) A policyholder card will not be issued. Print and save the PDF receipt using the link provided in the payment completion email or from your My Page screen.
- (3) Students who notified their graduate school of their withdrawal from entrance after paying the Gakkensai insurance premium will also need to complete the Gakkensai refund procedure. Note that the refund process will take about one month.

Created in 1976 with the participation of universities throughout Japan, the Gakkensai policy is designed to help enhance university education and research activities by providing students with the compensation needed for damages incurred while studying or doing research. It's currently provided by Japan Educational Exchanges and Services (JEES). The policy's managing underwriter is Tokio Marine & Nichido Fire Insurance. About 95% of all universities and junior colleges in Japan are participating members. (See the JEES website: <http://www.jees.or.jp/gakkensai/index.htm>)

① Personal Accident Insurance for Students Pursuing Education and Research (Gakkensai)

Gakkensai is an insurance policy designed to provide compensation for damages incurred by unexpected accidents that take place during a student's time at university. It covers accidents that take place during lab work, practical training, physical education, practical skill training, classroom attendance, school events or extracurriculars. It also covers accidents that take place during travel between home and school for any of these school activities when a reasonable route and means of transport have been used.

①-1 Optional coverage for commuting accidents (Tsugaku Tokuyaku)

Tsugaku Tokuyaku provides compensation for accidents that take place while a student is commuting between home and school or between school facilities for regular school attendance, school events or extracurriculars (club meetings) when a reasonable route and means of transport (not a means prohibited by the university) have been used.

①-2 Optional coverage for insurance benefits for contagious disease prevention (Sesshoku Kansen Tokuyaku; only for students in School of Medicine, Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences and School of Nursing)

Sesshoku Kansen Tokuyaku provides coverage for students who contracted contact infections during clinical training and who received measures to prevent the onset.

3 Inbound Futai Gakuso

All international students are also required to be covered by an insurance policy that provides compensation in addition to the Gakkensai compensation. The policy is known as Comprehensive Insurance for Students Lives Coupled with Gakkensai, (shortened to Inbound Futai Gakuso in Japanese). This comprehensive policy provides year-round, 24-hour-a-day coverage for incidents that arise during the student's time at the University. It includes personal liability coverage for damages incurred by the student during an internship or part-time job, and compensation for rescuer expenses associated with a hospital stay. Type B also covers medical expenses incurred for outpatient treatment of an illness or injury, starting from the first day of treatment. The personal liability coverage includes a settlement negotiation service to ensure worry-free claims resolution for international students with limited Japanese language ability.

Two different policy types are available, Type A and Type B. Type B provides compensation for out-of-pocket expenses paid directly to the healthcare provider if the policyholder is enrolled in Japan's National Health Insurance scheme and is in Japan for a stay of at least 3 months.

◆ Complete the online signup procedure and then pay the premium at a convenience store in Japan.

<https://tokiomarine.my.salesforce-sites.com/futaigakuso?id=001680Y>

Note that the premium needs to be paid in person in Japan no more than two weeks after completing the online signup procedure.

The policyholder card can only be sent to an address in Japan. If you still don't know what your address in Japan will be when signing up for the policy online, complete the signup procedure as soon as you have found out your address.

4 Other payments

Your graduate school may have its own additional fees.

[Chiba University ISD website]

The ISD website has a wealth of in-depth information on topics such as residence statuses, scholarships, housing and cultural exchange events. Be sure to make the most of this valuable resource.

➤ <https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/index.html>

I Guidance for new international students

➤ <https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/jp/living/guidance.html>

The link above provides key guidance for international students about to enter Japanese university. A collection of videos covers topics such as Chiba University support services for international students, scholarships, residence statuses, Japanese laws and rules, and earthquake and disaster readiness. New international students will definitely benefit from watching these videos.

II Help with residence registration and opening a bank account

ISD can help international students open a Japan Post Bank account and register their residence with the city of Chiba.

Within 14 days of arriving in Japan, international students must register as residents at their local city or ward office and enroll in Japan's National Health Insurance and National Pension schemes. You'll also need a bank account for receiving scholarship payments and withdrawing dormitory fees.

Contact ISD if you need help with these procedures.

III Residence statuses

➤ <https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/jp/visa/index.html>

The ISD website provides information on the procedures that non-Japanese citizens need to complete to legally reside in Japan. Be sure to read the information on the website and complete all the paperwork needed for legal residence in the country. The next page should also be read carefully.

➤ <https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/jp/housing/cosigner.html>

When international students enrolled at Chiba University rent a privately owned apartment, this system enables Chiba University (the Director of the International Student Division) to serve as the joint guarantor. Use the guarantor system if finding your own guarantor will be difficult. Note that to use the system, you'll need to take out an insurance policy called Comprehensive Renters' Insurance for Foreign Students Studying in Japan. The policy is provided by the Japan Educational Exchanges and Services (JEES). See the website for more information.

V Scholarship programs

➤ <https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/jp/living/scholarship/qualification.html>

To be able to apply for scholarships for privately financed international students that call for a university recommendation (scholarships provided by private organizations or by Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO)), you'll need to register in advance once per year as an applicant for scholarships for privately financed international students. More information is provided on the website.

[Section 4] Residence documents and other paperwork

Non-Japanese citizens residing in Japan for a medium-length or extended stay must have the documentation below. More information is provided on the ISD website. Contact ISD if you have any questions or concerns (the contact information is given on the previous page).

- ISD HOME ⇒ Status of Residence
<https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/jp/visa/index.html>

I Residence Card

Under Japan's Residential Basic Book Act, non-Japanese citizens residing in Japan for at least 3 months have the same obligation as Japanese citizens to register as residents. Resident registration is used to manage information about the residents of each city, ward, town and village. The information registered includes each resident's name, date of birth, residential address and National Health Insurance coverage history.

Residence registers for non-Japanese citizens are created from the information on their Residence Card. Upon entering (but not re-entering) Japan, you'll be issued a Residence Card during the immigration procedures at the airport. You must report your address to your local city or ward office to have this address entered on the back of the Residence Card (see Item III, 'Resident Relocation Notification').

Your Residence Card is an important document used to prove your identity.

- ✓ You'll need to have your address entered on the back of your Residence Card by your local city or ward office.
- ✓ Non-citizens are legally required to be in possession of their Residence Card at all times.

II My Number

Non-Japanese citizens residing in Japan for a medium-length or extended stay will also be issued a My Number. After receiving the notification card for your My Number, keep it in a safe place so as not to lose it. See the ISD website for more information.

III Resident Relocation Notification

If you enter Japan for another stay or move within Japan, you must submit a Resident Relocation Notification to your local city or ward office no more than 14 days after deciding on your new address. Be sure to report your change of address and have the new address entered on the back of your Residence Card.

When you relocate as a resident in Japan, you need to have a Moving-Out Notification issued from the city or ward office of your old address. This notification is needed to complete the Moving-In Notification process done at your new city or ward office.

IV Changes requiring Immigration Bureau notification

The Immigration Bureau must be notified no more than 14 days after changing your name or nationality for marriage or another reason, or after withdrawing from Chiba University to continue on with a higher program or transfer to another school. More information is provided on the ISD website. Be sure to read it and submit your notification on time.

- ISD HOME ⇒ Status of Residence ⇒ Other notifications and applications for changes
<https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/jp/visa/report.html>

V Period of stay

The period for which you are permitted to stay in Japan as an international student is entered on your Residence Card. If you need to extend your period of stay in Japan, you'll need apply to the Immigration Bureau for an extension before the current period expires. Note that the extension procedure takes some time. You can apply for an extension up to 3 months before your current period is set to expire, so apply as early as possible. See the ISD website for more information.

- ISD HOME ⇒ Status of Residence ⇒ Extension of Period of Stay
<https://www.chiba-u.ac.jp/international/isd/jp/visa/renewal.html>

[Section 5] National Health Insurance, National Pension

I National Health Insurance

Non-Japanese citizens residing in Japan for a medium-length or extended period (including international students) are required to enroll in Japan's National Health Insurance scheme.

Once enrolled in the scheme, you'll usually only have to pay 30% of the medical costs paid directly to the hospital or other healthcare facility.

Medical costs are expensive in Japan. Be sure to enroll in the National Health Insurance scheme. Even individuals in robust health can always have an unexpected illness or accident requiring medical treatment at a healthcare facility that would incur a costly medical bill if not enrolled. Enroll in the scheme at the city or ward office where you registered your residence.

Everyone needs to enroll in the Japanese National Health Insurance scheme.

You can apply for a discounted premium at your city or ward office if your income is below a certain threshold. See the ISD website for more information.

II National Pension

All registered residents in Japan between the ages of 20 and 59 are covered by the National Pension (Kokumin Nenkin) scheme. Non-Japanese citizens who are required to register their Japanese residency (anyone issued a Residence Card) are also required to enroll in the scheme. An exemption program is available for residents who have difficulty paying the premiums. See the ISD website for more information.

[Section 7] Financial assistance

I Pre-registering to apply for scholarships for privately financed international students

1. Procedure

Students seeking a scholarship for privately financed international students need to register their scholarship seeker status in advance. This requirement applies to scholarships calling for a university recommendation, such as a JASSO (Japan Student Services Organization) scholarship or a privately funded scholarship.

Once you have registered, the committee will assess your registered information to determine your recommendation rank. Applicants are assessed on the basis of criteria such as grades, year in school, tuition exemption history and scholarship history. When a scholarship offer is subsequently received from a foundation, seekers of that scholarship submit an application to the International Student Division, and the applications are recommended in accordance with the student rankings.

[Notes on pre-registration]

- ✓ You must pre-register to apply for scholarships that require a university recommendation.
- ✓ The pre-registration requirement also applies to privately-financed international students who want to apply for a Japanese government international scholarship, or who are on the reservation list for a scholarship provided by Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO).

2. Requirements for registering (requirements ① to ⑤ below must all be satisfied)

- ① The applicant must be an international student due to be enrolled in the year of the scholarship award, as a student in a degree program (undergraduate or graduate) or a research student.
(The applicant must have a Ryugaku (Student) residence status. The same applies to students planning to enter or planning to advance to a higher degree program.)
- ② Students in a degree program must not exceed the standard length of time for program completion (excluding periods of leave of absence).
- ③ The applicant must have superior grades and have not received any disciplinary action within the past year.

3. How to register

Students seeking to register as a scholarship applicant who satisfy the registration requirements of Item 2 above must register by the specified deadline after checking the registration procedure on the International Student Division website below. Applications received after the deadline will not be accepted.
